Reinforced double-mesh strainer 30 cm stainless steel with wood handle

The reinforced double-mesh strainer by Pujadas is ready for the toughest commercial kitchens around. This reliable strainer features two stainless steel mesh layers and reinforcement wires on the bottom to add strength and resist warping for impressive durability and longevity. The double-mesh design also produces better results, as it ensures no lumps are able to sneak through. This strainer features a long wood handle for a dependable grip, as well as a bowl hook that allows this strainer to rest on a bowl or pot during use. The versatile design is ideal for removing lumps from sauces, removing solid food items from cooking liquids, dusting baked goods with powdered sugar and much more.
