Bar cutting board 20 x 25 cm high-density polyethylene in white

This bar cutting board by Pujadas is a drink service essential. It's made of high-density polyethylene, which provides superior durability, rigidity and abrasion resistance for an incomparable performance. This 20 x 25 cm bar cutting board is the perfect size for smaller food items like limes, so it's the perfect choice for any bar or drink area. This bar cutting board features silicone feet, so it won't slide around on countertops. Instead, it will provide a reliable, steady surface for slicing, dicing, chopping and much more. The white color fits into a color-coded HACCP program perfectly, which helps keep everything organized, maximizes efficiency and prevents cross contamination, while the smooth surface promises quick and easy cleaning.
