Steel Pro 1921 Series frying pan 28 cm cast steel with ILAG nonstick coating

For faster, healthier cooking, turn to the Steel Pro 1921 Series frying pan by Pujadas. This cast-steel pan allows you to cook items like meat, fish and vegetables over high heat with very little oil. The PFOA-free ILAG nonstick coating promises easy release, while the cast steel offers excellent durability and heat distribution for superior results. And, thanks to the unique design, this frying pan is 40 percent lighter than traditional iron pans for a comfortable user experience.

Features & Benefits

- The curved handle provides an ergonomic grip and prevents heat retention, so it stays cool all day long. Suitable for electric, gas, vitroceramic and induction ranges, as well as ovens, this frying pan will go wherever you need it. And, cleaning is a simple process that does not require water or soap. Simply rub this pan with a lightly oiled cloth, and it's as good as new.
